Thank you for supporting Chester Gang Show, which is a superb showcase for local talent, wonderful fun and a special piece of our theatrical calendar.

My own first public appearance at the age of 7 was a rosebud wearing rouge, lipstick and a tutu in a Church Hall Gang Show as a newly enrolled Cub Scout, after that being Lord Mayor is much less nerve racking.

I have followed what was originally "Scoutabout" from the Royalty Theatre with Roy Fisher and Bill Brickland, via the ABC now Brannigan's to the Gateway, and have never had a dull evening.

Sue and I really appreciate all the hard work done in rehearsals, by the Gang and the production team behind the scenes, to give the performers a starring role and audiences an evening of delight.

Enjoy the show and try to spot a future Lord Mayor or a future star in the cast.

Yours in Scouting

Graham Proctor
Lord Mayor

Not the Producer's LETTER

Welcome one, welcome all. The Gang is backstage fine-tuning their voices, finding costumes that fit and releasing the Cubs from their cages, whilst I, a Gang member of many years would like to tell you about our Gang Show. 2002 will be the 48th performance for the Chester Gang Show and it is destined to be as good as if not better than in previous years.

This year, the Gang started rehearsing way back in October and have given up countless hours of time (and sleep, for the directors) to put on this show for you. The Gang Show wouldn't be here this year if it weren't for Richard Clarke, who stepped in as our new producer after the recent departure of Matt Davies.

The Gang Show has always been a hit, with all ages of people performing and watching, all the way from the Cubs to our Producer... oops! So, sit back and watch the scenery change as we travel from downtown Hamlin to somewhere in the desert, and see if you can spot the spoof on "Pop Stars".

Enjoy the show because WE WILL ROCK YOU!!!!

A Way of Life? GANG SHOW

Christmas and New Year, a time for taking stock of the past and looking forward to the future: A steadily shrinking band of those involved in this year's show were also at the sharp-end in 1953. Now in their sixties or the wrong side of 75; what, you may wonder, inspires them do it?

Believe it or not, in spite of the panics and sleepless nights, there is a sort of peculiar satisfaction in being involved in this outfit. Our main claim to fame is that of being part of an institution started by Ralph Reader with the support (and in the presence) of Robert Baden-Powell, back in 1932. No one it seems, does it quite like we do. Some might offer a silent prayer of thanksgiving for small mercies!

But, as our Golden Jubilee slowly climbs over the horizon, there must be many thousands, (young and old), who still remember the fun and achievement of simply getting a show onto the stage. (Those looking for a course in the premier league of character-building and ingenuity, please apply within!)

From the draughty corridors around the Cathedral Refectory in 1953, via the nostalgic Victoriana of the Royalty Theatre, (sadly soon to be demolished), then the ABC Cinema (now Brannigans), we arrived at this theatre in 1969, the first time that girls took part in the show.

Things are now much more sophisticated, but just being involved in the twilight years of the 1950s Music Hall was an experience never to be forgotten. Our early days were the pioneering days: Smoke was generated with hot water and huge lumps of dry ice. Thick fog rolled downstage, filling the orchestra pit to the top of the music stands. The band played on, blind and struggling to avoid suffocation. Peter Pan could fly using a £25 per week hired harness. The warning on take-off was simply to "Watch out for enemy night fighters when approaching the ceiling." Having lived through it all, I can only say to anyone out there who might be interested, "Come and join us". Last but not least, "All the Best of Luck to the Gang and supporting Team, you deserve it!"
